To whom it may concern,

We recommend Roni and Lee to sellers who are looking for a representative. The mother and daughter team did an excellent job selling our condo. The whole selling procedure was extremely smooth and the final price was way beyond the asking price and our expectation. In this sale, we broke a record high unit price in our neighborhood.

Roni and Lee are outstanding for three reasons:

First, they have very smart and effective strategies, which are based on their rich experience in the real estate realm and deep understanding of the region. After meeting with them for the first time and listening to their strategy, we knew they were the ones we were looking for. They are also well prepared for potential issues that could happen along the way. When problems arise, they can always respond promptly and properly. The best plan and best execution ensured the best possible outcome.

Second, they respect their customer and they listen. They talked with us at each crucial decision-making point and patiently explained everything to us. They listened to our concerns and questions, and they provided professional suggestions and guidance for us to understand the situation and make wise decisions.

Third, they collaborate with other exceptional professionals in other area. Our condo needed some touchup before going on the market. They gave us recommendations on what to do and took care of the whole thing for us. The people they found for us are all very professional, thoughtful and they all charged reasonable price. We love the work they did on our condo. My father even said that he wanted to move back after he saw the pictures after staging.

Roni and Lee magically made the tedious selling procedure artistic and enjoyable. We are looking forward to working with them again soon. I highly recommend them and happy to answer any questions.

Regards,

Henu Zhao & Yong Fu
