To whom it may concern:

My family wishes to express appreciation to Roni and Lee Amitai for their excellent work as Realtors. When my elderly mother came to the place in her life when she needed assistance in daily living, she decided it would be best to sell her Culver City home where she had resided 49 years. Roni and Lee kept all family members up to date as new developments occurred in the preparation, listing and sale phases. They watched over the house in our absence, since we do not live in Culver City. They staged the property on our behalf for an Open House.

I cannot think of anything lacking in the service that the Amitais provided to my mother. She sold her home for more than the asking price. I would recommend them to any friend of mine who was looking for a Realtor.

Sincerely,
